2 drown oystering

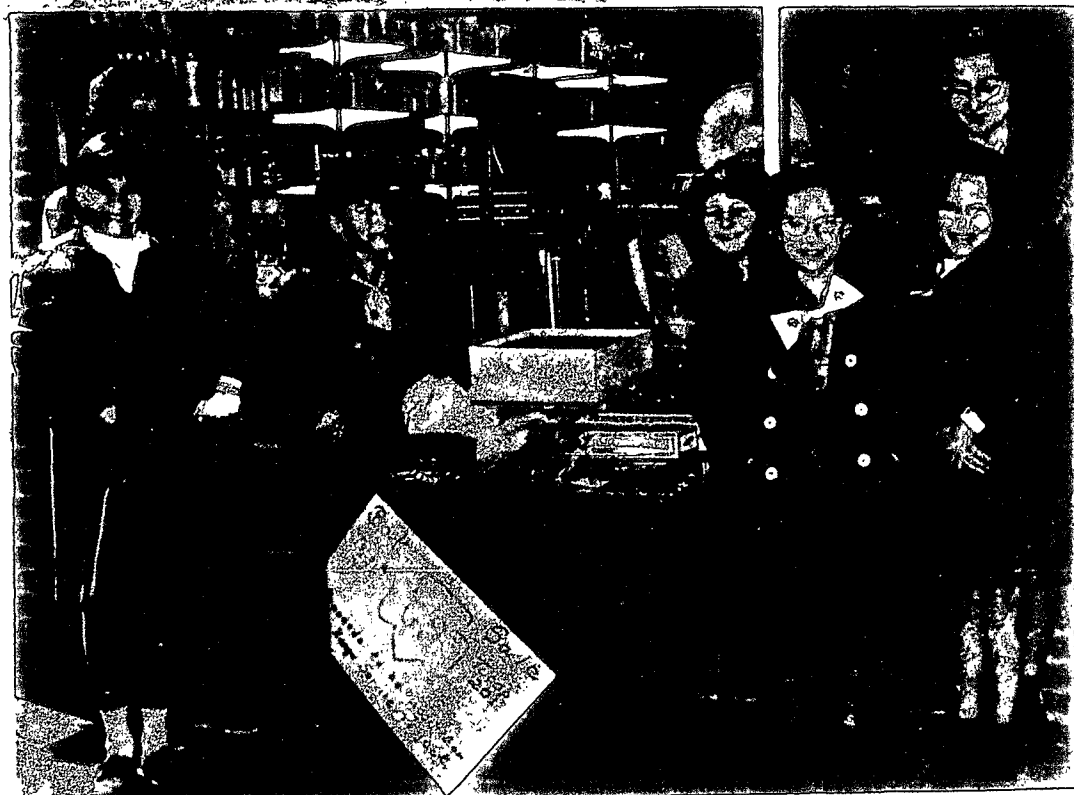

Two young men on oystering boat north of the highway Saturday afternoon became the first drowning victims of the year.

Sylvia J. Lecher, Bay Police Chief, said he identified the two men as Marvin J. Wainwright, 22, of New Orleans, and Clay Williams, 16, of New Orleans. The report of the drowning came about 1:30 p.m. and the civil defense unit along with officers of the city and county law enforcement agencies immediately went to the scene. A Coast Guard boat with two officers and a Coast Guard helicopter were also sent to the scene. The bodies were recovered about 4 p.m. by a diver. The bodies were taken to the hospital for identification.

Wainwright and Burns were said to have driven over from New Orleans Saturday morning to work for oysters in the bay. They put their boat in the water near the Yacht Club. The boat was a 12-foot outboard motor boat. The two men were working on the oysters when the accident occurred. The boat was carrying two other men, but they were not injured.

was identified by papers found on their bodies and an inquest jury composed by Justice of the Peace Nolan Lecher, acting coroner, ruled death was by drowning.

Wainwright was a native of Bay St. Louis and had lived in Missouri about six years. He was the son of Lawrence Wainwright and the late Elizabeth Wainwright. (Cont. on Page 7)

Say voters must OK Logtown money use

A majority of the voters in the Hancock County school district must approve the use of Logtown money for the school building program before the board of supervisors will accept the money.

That's what the supervisors told the county school board Monday at a joint conference requested by the school trustees in an effort to enable them to proceed immediately with their three-part construction program.

While trustees expressed hope of having the necessary petition back by next Monday when another joint session is planned, it appears it may be a good 30 days before the construction contract can actually be let.

Sam L. Foyre, Jr., attorney for the supervisors, stated the money had to be in hand before any board can award a contract. The school's $350,000 bond issue, sold last summer to Hancock Bank, has never been validated and the board has not yet drawn down the 50 per cent of the NASA contribution money on Logtown which it hopes to use on this building program. A Biloxi man, who confessed upon occasion to being guilty of mixing business with pleasure, was arrested there Saturday on a suspect in local gun thefts.

Roland H. Creel, 37, an employee of a pest control firm, was picked up at the request of Hancock County Sheriff J. Lecher, Jr., on suspicion of theft of guns from four local residences. Four guns were found in his possession, and six pistols, seven shotguns, and an outboard motor, gasoline can and transistor radio have since been recovered, several of which had been sold for over $200. Three were located buried in the yard of a local man who had purchased them unaware they were stolen.

Creel, who has only been in the exterminating business since Nov. 1, was placed under surveillance after his truck had been seen at homes either the day of burglaries or shortly before.

He admitted to entering the Donald Collier residence on two occasions, Jan. 4 and 5, taking a Colt .45 revolver, two shotguns and the radio. The home of Gerald Kennedy was also hit twice, netting two .12 and two .20 gauge shotguns on Dec. 5 and 6.

Dec. 15 was the date listed for the theft of a Remington automatic rifle from the Beach Blvd. residence of Joe Sells. Two days later a 10 HP Evinrude motor and five gallon gasoline can were taken from the Merlin Markel home on Mable Drive.

Other firearms were stolen from two Gulfport women, Mrs. Malba Peache and a Mrs. Burton, and a .25 calibre pistol from Travel Inn in Biloxi.

Chief Deputy Eldo Desprez and Sheriff Lecher returned Creel to Hancock County Jail, and preliminary hearing was scheduled late Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Nolan Lecher.

Creel, a former tug boat captain, stated in the presence of an Echo reporter that this was his first arrest, adding that he took some articles while exterminating, others when the owners were not at home a day or so later.

Biloxi and local officers are checking on the possibility of other gun thefts in both areas.

Take school bid but await money

With old foster time ticking off the minutes the Hancock County School Board's extended session ended, directing them to vacate the Logtown school at the close of the 1965-66 school year, is approaching its deadline by the hour.

Roy Anderson, Jr., of Gulfport, low bidder on a proposed three part county school building program, agreed with trustees on Saturday that it would be possible to have the replacement plant at Pearlington ton in operation by September.

"Every day we loose now is going to hurt in September," said Anderson.

Trustees, voted to accept his combination bid of $499,400 for all three projects providing the board of supervisors agree to transfer NASA funds received from the sale of the Logtown School into the building fund.

The bidder, who called for a 220-day completion period on his bid, said that if the board, the Pearlington school and the contractor cooperate during the last 30 days of construction things will probably work out fine. "They can move in as we finish the rooms," Anderson said.

He said it would be better if the building were completely finished before opening the school but agreed that the time limitation would probably result in classes being held in one portion of the building as he completed the balance.

With an eye on diminishing transportation problems school trustees also called for priority to be given to the proposed bus shop at Hancock North Central.

In warning against undue delay Anderson advised that if the supervisors approve the board request for fund transfer he be given a letter of intent that would enable him to order steel for the project.

"Steel is in very short supply in this area and unless I can order right away we may experience some delay in this stage of construction," Anderson cautioned.

A bid of $11,697 from Suter Well Works of Pass Christian was also opened and recorded. This was the sole bid received for digging a well at the Pearlington site and renovating the existing well at Gulfview.

School trustees also voted to maintain their original building plan and, in this theme, decided against accepting any deductions as provided for in the various alternates to the basic bid price.

The alternates, called for in both the original bid and the re-bid, covered such items as a change in heating systems, different wall and floor finishes, limiting the coverage disposal system to present requirements and deleting two classrooms from Gulfview and Pearlington.

Auto claim routine set by city hall

Motorists whose automobiles are damaged on city streets or suffer damage through baggage should leave their car at the scene and contact city police, J. Cyril Glover, city commissioner, said Monday.

To claim cash insurance settlement the motorist or occupant should be reported immediately. "City police have been instructed to complete a special accident report and these will be forwarded to the insurance company," Glover said.

Emphasizing that no check for the claim could be issued unless the motorist had been assigned to a claimant, Glover said that the insurance company would not pay a claim unless the motorist had been assigned to a claimant.

"Once we have this system working properly any inconvenience arising out of claim delays will be greatly minimized," he said.

Completing his remarks he again emphasized the importance of leaving the car at the scene. "The report completed by police will serve, in part, as a verification of the claim," he concluded.

Food stamp program gathers momentum

A total of 5,810 families with 26,762 persons were taking part in the food stamp program in the Mississippi counties at the close of last year, said Orville L. Freeman, secretary of agriculture, on Monday.

To be eligible to a further four counties, Clay, Forrest, Wayne and Wilcox, the program to be integrated in Chickasaw, Coahoma, Harrison, Jones, Leflore and Madison counties.

During 1965, food stamp recipients in the six counties were issued $1,001,907 worth of food stamps. Of this amount they bought $459,959 worth of coupons and received $541,948 worth free of charge. In the period 628 retail stores were authorized to accept the coupons and the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service indicated the program had put more than $1 million into the economy of the six counties.

Food stamp officials point out that implementation of a food stamp program in any new area requires considerable planning and preparation.

Pest control agent faces arms charges

Say voters must OK Logtown money use

A majority of the voters in the Hancock County school district must approve the use of Logtown money for the school building program before the board of supervisors will accept the contract.

That's what the supervisors told the county school board Monday at a joint conference requested by the school trustees in an effort to settle the Logtown money issue.

While the supervisors expressed hope of having the necessary petition back by next Monday when another joint session is planned, it appears it may be a good 30 days before the construction contract can actually be let.

Sam L. Foy, Jr., attorney for the supervisors, noted the money had to be in hand before any board can award a contract. The school's $350,000 bond issue, sold last summer to Hancock Bank, has never been validated and the board has not yet drawn down the 30 per cent of the NASA contribution money on Logtown which it hopes to use on the building program. These two factors will take about three weeks.

Ed. P. Ortiz, president of the school board, told supervisors his board this morning had agreed to accept the Logtown bid of Ray Anderson of Gulfport at $499,400 for construction of the Pearlington School, Gulfview addition and expansion at Hancock North Central including the bus shop. Signing of the contract is contingent upon release of the NASA money.

Because Logtown School must be vacated at the end of the current session, Pearlington will get priority on the bus shop. The contractor has said the board Pearlington could be ready for September if work (Cont. on Page 7.)

Take school bid but await money

With old father time ticking off the minutes the Hancock County School Board's amended contract, directing school trustees to vacate the Logtown school at the close of the 1965-66 school year, is approaching its deadline by the hour.

Ray Anderson, Jr., of Gulfport, low bidder on a proposed three part county school building program, agreed with trustees on Saturday that it would be possible to have the replacement plant at Pearlington ton in operation by September.

"Every day we loose now is going to hurt in September," said Anderson.

Trustees, voted to accept his combination bid of $499,400 for all three projects providing the board of supervisors agrees to transfer NASA funds received from the sale of the Logtown School into the building fund.

The bidder, who called for a 220-day completion period on his bid, said that if the board, the Pearlington school and the contractor completed the last 30 days of construction things will probably work out fine. "They can move in as we finish the rooms," Anderson said.

He said it would be better if the building were completely finished before opening the school but agreed that the time limitations would probably result in classes being held in one portion of the building as he completed the balance.

With an eye on diminishing transportation problems school trustees also called for priority to be given to the proposed bus shop at Hancock North Central.

In warning against undue delay Anderson asked that if the supervisors approve the board request for fund transfer he be given a letter of intent that would enable him to order steel for the project.

"Steel is in very short supply in this area and unless I can order right away we may experience some delay in the stage of construction," Anderson cautioned.

A bid of $11,697 from Sutter Well Works of Pass Christian was also opened and recorded. This was the sole bid received for digging a well at the Pearlington site and renovating the existing well at Gulfview.

School trustees also voted to maintain their original building plan and, in this theme, decided against accepting any deductions as provided for in the various alternatives to the basic bid price.

The alternative, called for in both the original bid and the rebid, covered such items as a change in heating systems, different wall and floor finishes, limiting the coverage disposal system to present requirements and deleting two classrooms from Gulfview and Pearlington.

A Biloxi man, who confessed upon occasion to being guilty of minor business with pleasure, was arrested there Saturday on a charge in local gun theft.

Roland H. Creel, 37, an employee of a pest control firm, was picked up at the request of Hancock County Sylvan J. Ledner, Jr., on suspicion of theft of guns from four local residences. Four guns were found in his possession, an outboard motor, gasoline can and transistor radio have since been recovered, several of which had been sold for over $200. Three were located buried in the yard of a local man who had purchased them unaware they were stolen.

Creel, who has only been in the pest-control business since Nov. 1, was placed under surveillance after his truck had been seen at houses either the day of burglary or shortly before.

He admitted to entering the Donald Collier residence on two occasions, Jan. 4 and 5, taking a Colt .45 revolver, two shotguns and the radio. The home of Gerald Kennedy was also hit twice, netting two .12 and two .20 gauge shotguns on Dec. 5 and 6.

Dec. 15 was the date listed for the theft of a Remington automatic rifle from the Beach Blvd. residence of Joe Sella. Two days later a 10 HP Evinrude motor and five gallon gasoline can were taken from the Merita Marlin home on Molere Drive.

Other firearms were stolen from two Gulfport women, Mrs. Melba Perkins and a Mrs. Burton, and a .25 calibre pistol from Travel Inn in Biloxi.

Chief Deputy Eldo Dapres and Sheriff Ledner returned Creel to Hancock County Jail, and preliminary hearing was scheduled late Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Nolan Ledner.

Creel, a former tug boat captain, stated in the presence of an Echo reporter that this was his first arrest, adding that he took some articles while exterminating, other than the owners were not at home a day or so later.

Biloxi and local officers are checking on the possibility of other gun thefts in both areas.

Funeral is Monday for Mr. Perkins

Grady Perkins, Bay St. Louis city commissioner for 16 years, died Saturday night at Hancock General Hospital shortly after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home, 107 Phyllis St.

Mr. Perkins, 63, also served as head coach at St. Stanislaus College for a number of years. He was born Nov. 21, 1902, in Brantton, Ga., and came here in 1908.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Temple Perkins Evans of Baton Rouge, La.; one son, L. (J.G.) Grady Perkins, Jr., U.S.N., Pensacola, Fla.; two sisters, Misses Mary and Gertrude Perkins, and one brother, R. Tonnell Perkins, all of Bay St. Louis.

The funeral was Monday morning from St. Stanislaus Catholic Church with a service at Main Street Methodist Church and burial in Cedar Rest Cemetery. Rev. L. Martin, pastor, officiated.

Palbearers were Ben Hill, C.A. Breach, Jr., James McDonald, John C. Glover, E. J. LaCourse, Kenneth C. McCarty, Leo Seal Jr., and Norma Renshaw.

WSOS SUB-DISTRICT DUE - Bay St. Louis and Waveland Woman's Society for Christian Service will be host for the semi-annual meeting of the sub-district 9:30 a.m. today at Main Street Methodist Church. Mrs. Fred Shelly of Long Beach will preside and luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m.

Assessment in question, delays board pay hike

Just what Hancock County's assessment is for 1966 is still under review by the State Tax Commission and until it is determined, there will be no change in salaries of the board of supervisors, they were informed Monday.

Preliminary indications were that the assessment was $22,421,198.35, excluding gas and oil. Now there seems to be some question whether Hancock is due credit for all the motor vehicle assessment since some are taxed also in the Bay St. Louis school district or the Piquette district. If the latter are lopped off the total, Hancock's assessment will run only about $19 million and it will remain in Class 3.

Bills and bids were other considerations at the session. Allied Equipment Co. was lone a successful bidder at $3,956.50 on an 18-ton trailer and $31,438 for an Allis-

Chalmers tractor to be purchased for the oyster wall fund. Claims against the oyster fund drew concern with only a $2,333 balance. President R.C. Hubbard, Jr., suggested the number of cases drawing $30 a month for care may be getting too high. Supervisors also questioned two bills on the oyster fund for conveying a petition to University Hospital in Jackson. Sheriff Sylvan J. Ledner, Jr., noted that only the supervisors themselves can authorize this.

Hubbard also cautioned about spending from the oyster wall and general fund.

The board laid over a $750 bill from Lucien M. Galt, attorney, for services on the current redistricting case against them. This exceeds by 50 per cent the total charged to the plaintiffs including appeals. No action was taken on a request from Gold Medal Battery for a Wainwright and Buras were said to have driven over from New Orleans Saturday morning to stay for oysters in the bay. They put their child with an outboard motor into the water near the Yacht Club. The drowning was a chest dissection of the chest area where depth of the water was variously estimated at from eight to 15 feet.

After some delay the pair was identified by papers found on their bodies and an inquest jury empaneled by Justice of the Peace Nolan Ledner, acting coroner, ruled death was by drowning.

Wainwright was a native of Bay St. Louis and had lived in Mexico about six years. He was the son of Lawrence Wainwright and the late Elizabeth (Cont. on Page 7.)

BAKE SALE - Girl Scouts of troops 201 and 275, both of Waveland, held a chilly temperature of last Saturday offering baked goods to building weekend chappert. Mrs. Joseph Griffin, left, count leader, says 24 girls took part in sale and raised $41.07 for their bag range services project.

Union choice vote meet set for MTF

The decision as to whether or not they want to be represented by union in collective bargaining will be decided by certain groups of Mississippi Test Facility employees on an election to be held within the next 30 days.

This ruling came from the Washington office of the National Labor Relations Board after study of a petition filed by the groups concerned.

A meeting at the site between all interested parties has been called for today by the NLRB. At this time it is expected the election date will be fixed.

John F. LeFras, regional director of the NLRB, said employees of all concerns involved in the testing center with the exception of General Electric and some of its subcontractors, will be eligible to take part in the election.

A further petition submitted to the NLRB by General Electric was dismissed on the grounds that some GE subcontractors did not file separate petitions thus designating GE as the sole employer.

Under NLRB regulations these cases cannot be reconsidered for one year.

Consolidated Intelligence to take part in the vote are GE, McDonough Test Support Department, Allied - Webb, a joint venture; Glantz Contracting Corp. and Consolidated American Services, Inc.

Employees of approved units may choose which unit will represent their unit, or reject unionization, with the exception of "all office clerical, professional and technical employees, guards, watchmen and supervisors as defined in the act," LeFras said.

Units eligible to vote on collective bargaining and the choice of specific unions are The Space Service International Corp. of Atlanta, GE, H.R. Morgan Contracting Co. of Petal, M and T Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., James N. Travira of Bay St. Louis, Southern California Operating Co. and Cook Brothers Leasing Co.

During the business portion of the session it was decided to meet at 4 p.m. on the first and third Thursday of each month.

In an invitation to prospective members Miss Dees said that any girl who would like to join the club can contact anyone of the members for information.

"Watkins MIN-VITE means Low Cost, High Profit feeding!"

Watkins MIN-VITE for Beef helps make up the MINeral-VITamin deficiencies found in most rations. Enables profit-minded feeders, like the Utsch brothers, to feed a better balanced ration.

Watkins MIN-VITE supplies essential minerals, Vitamins A, D and B-Complex, plus a low level broad-spectrum antibiotic that helps cattle utilize more of their feed, put on more beef at less cost. This means . . . more profit in the feeder's pocket!

Jet-Smoother THE CHEVROLET WAY

We added new bushings and softened body-to-frame mounts to smooth Chevrolet's ride. We put in self-acting shock absorbers and self-wrinking coil springs at every wheel. By soft, though, we don't mean mushy. Chevrolet's Way makes for a smooth, cold ride. Very steady on curves. A bump jumps from the Wide-Stroke wheels to the triple springs and shocks - and poof! It all just disappears.

Soft contoured new Strato-bucket front seats come standard in Super Sports for relaxing comfort on every trip.

The powerfully smooth new Turbo-Jet V8 is available in all '66 Caprice, Impala SS, Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne models.

Eight features now clearing the way for your added safety - including seat belts front and back (they buckle up) and on outside rear-view mirror (always check in back before passing).

Tigers spring over Ocean Springs, 82-59

Bay High jumped to an 82-59 victory over Ocean Springs Friday night in Tiger gym to close out its home schedule but coach Wimpy Seymour was singing the blues.

This season's Tigers are among the best in recent memory but he is losing eight out of 13 players and replacements look scarce at this time. They have beaten highly-rated North Central twice, being hurt but are 1-1 in conference play.

St. Williams dumps Trapani in Kiln play

Sunday's play in the Association Basketball League opened with a rout when St. Williams trounced Trapani 24-6.

In the only other game played, Lizaan beat White Cypress 78-46 and Kiln beat the Bels 78-44.

Trapani appeared to be outlasting from an overabundance of Lizaan and had trouble getting started. They trailed St. Williams, 22-24, at halftime and couldn't catch up to the Saints. For St. Williams, Doug Neece and Wayne Morris played in 20 minutes each and Robert Lecher 16. Trapani's W.J. Cameron and Noble Lecher finished in 16 and 15.

For Lizaan, Wendell Dutton got 21 followed by J.C. Lizaan with 18. White Cypress' Howard Lizaan scored a fine shot with 34. Wayne Morris and Curtis Dutton got 10.

Kiln's John and Bob Neece each tallied 20 and Lizaan 14. For the Bels, Steve Lizaan, 21; and Paul Smith 16. The pregame over last week's St. Williams - Kiln game, won by St. Williams 70-69, was dropped by Kiln at a meeting Friday. Father Kenneth Brown, president of the league, said.

Sunday's action started at 12:30 with Lizaan vs. Kiln 1-5, St. Williams vs. White Cypress and 4:15, Bels vs. Trapani in a game that has all the earmarks of a dilly.

The Hawks have a busy weekend ahead up, commencing with a basketball game, traveling to Frisco, Texas, Friday and Saturday, and returning to the Gulf Coast Conference on Sunday.

The Hawks, winners of the Gulf Coast Conference championship, are a 2-1 team, having won their first two games and dropped the second 69-59. The Hawks are also playing in their conference.

Volunteer Malley hit the buzzer for 28 points followed closely by John Lecher with 21.
